

USE YOUR BRAIN

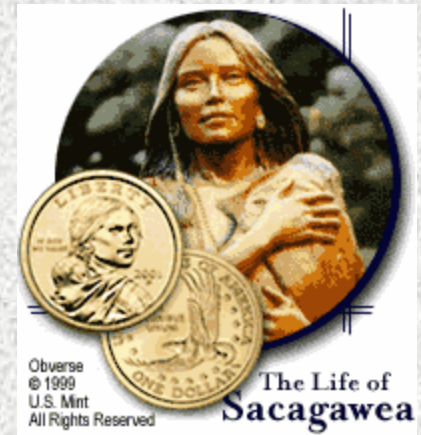

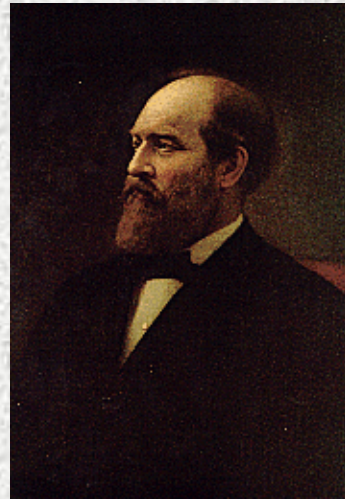

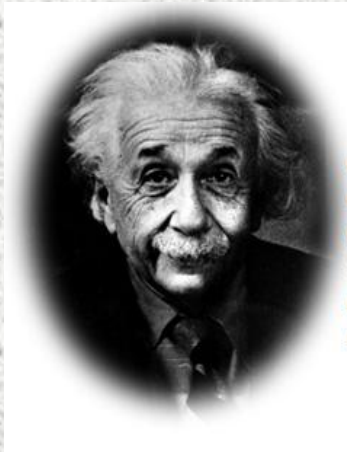

MULTIPLE INTELLIGENCES

Dr. Abhimanyu R. Dhormare

Head, Department of Psychology,

Babuji Avhad Mahavidyalaya, Pathardi

WHO IS INTELLIGENT?

8 INTELLIGENCES – BY DR. HOWARD GARDNER

- Linguistic
- Logical/ Mathematical
- Spatial
- Bodily/ Kinesthetic
- Musical
- Interpersonal
- Intrapersonal
- Naturalistic

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Toni Morrison

Linguistic Intelligence

- Skilled with words
- “The Word Player”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Albert Einstein

Logical/ Mathematical Intelligence

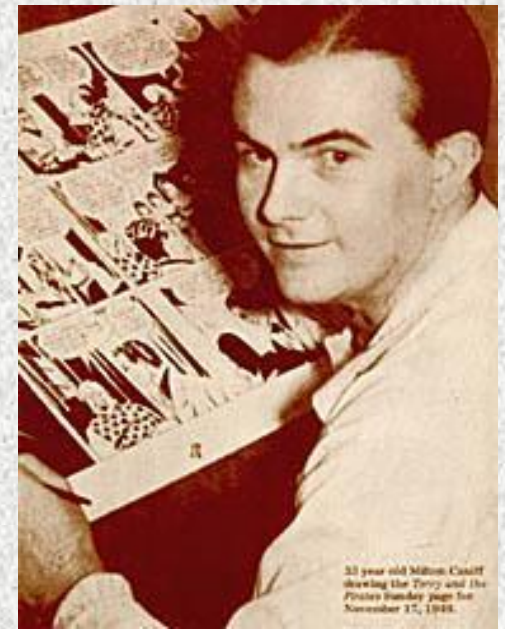

- Skilled with numbers & reasoning
- “The Questioner”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Milton Caniff

Spatial Intelligence

- Skilled with pictures & images
- “The Visualizer”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Cy Young

Bodily/ Kinesthetic Intelligence

- Physical skill
- “The Mover”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Doris Day

Musical Intelligence

- Skilled with melody & rhythm
- “The Music Lover”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

James A. Garfield

Interpersonal Intelligence

- Skills of social understanding
- “The Socializer”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Helen Keller

Intrapersonal Intelligence

- Skills of self-knowledge
- “The Individual”

CAN YOU DEFINE INTELLIGENCE?

Sacagawea

Naturalistic Intelligence

- Skills of making connection to elements in nature
- “The Outdoorsman”

MI CHECKLIST

LINGUISTIC

If you have strong linguistic intelligence you might learn better by

- Reading
- Memorizing
- Playing word games (Scrabble, Anagrams, Password)
- Making up rhymes, puns
- Using the internet

LOGICAL/MATHEMATICAL LEARNER

If you have strong logical-mathematical intelligence you might learn better by

- Setting up experiments (“What if...?”)
- Recording information systematically
- Playing strategy games (Chess, Checkers)
- Analyzing data
- Asking logical questions
- Using the internet

SPATIAL LEARNER

If you have strong spatial intelligence you might learn better by

- Studying pictures
- Watching videos
- Using visual, tangible aids
- Doing mazes, puzzles
- Making predictions
- Using the internet

BODILY/KINESTHETIC LEARNER

If you have strong bodily-kinesthetic intelligence you might learn better by

- Doing role plays
- Exercising while reviewing
- Using the internet
- Constructing physical examples
- Asking logical questions
- Visiting museums, institutions, parks

MUSICAL LEARNER

If you have strong musical intelligence you might learn better by

- Listening to recordings
- Talking to yourself
- Making up songs
- Mentally repeating information
- Reading aloud
- Changing tempo

INTERPERSONAL LEARNER

If you have strong interpersonal intelligence you might learn better by

- Studying in groups
- Comparing information with others
- Interviewing experts
- Relating personal experiences
- Being a team player
- Doing cooperative projects

INTRAPERSONAL LEARNER

If you have strong intrapersonal intelligence you might learn better by

- Avoiding distractions
- Establishing personal goals
- Playing solitary games
- Setting own pace
- Working alone
- Relating personal experiences

NATURALISTIC LEARNER

If you have strong naturalistic intelligence you might learn better by

- Studying outside
- Learning in the presence of plants & pets
- Relating environmental issues to topics
- Smelling, seeing touching, tasting
- Observing natural phenomenon

MULTIPLE INTELLIGENCES

- Intelligences Reframed
- Studies continue...
 - Naturalistic Intelligence
 - Moral Intelligence
 - Spiritual Intelligence